

THE GOLDWORK GUILD

To encourage, teach and keep alive, the art of Goldwork in all its forms

The Goldwork Guild has been established to carry out what our motto states above. All are welcome, whether absolute beginner or expert, from the designer to those wanting to learn more. Membership is £10.00 per annum in the UK and you will receive a copy of the Guild's magazine, which are published every quarter. All back issues of the Partworks and new magazines are currently available and are filled with various articles on the history of goldwork, techniques, tips, equipment, reference material etc. The guild also organises visits to museums and other places of interests and hold meetings where members can meet, attempt various challenges and purchase materials for their own projects.

The founder of the guild is Janice Williams, who trained at the Royal School of Needlework. Over her varied career she has taught textiles in school and lectured at the College of Education in Gloucester. She has examined for Bristol University, City & Guilds Embroidery and G.C.E. Throughout her life Janice has been a practising craftperson, and as such has work recorded in the Crafts Council Index of Selected Craftsmen.
